DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

The amendment filed on 5/13/04 has been entered. Claim 6 has been amended. Claims 3-6 and 9-11 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 6 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ibbetson et al. (US 6,515,313) in view of Anayama et al. (US 5,799,027).

Regarding Claim 6, Ibbetson teaches in Figure 9A an optical semiconductor device comprising a plurality of semiconductor layers including a n-p junction between an n-type layer (86) and a p-type layer (84), an active layer (85) and a planar substrate (81). Ibbetson further teaches in Figure 8B that said active layer is grown such that the polarization field is directed from said n-layer to said p-layer. Ibbetson does not teach a tilted active layer. Anayama teaches in Figure 7 a semiconductor optical device comprising n-p junction (5) that is tilted at an angle with respect to a substrate (1). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to use a tilted active layer in Ibbetson, as taught by Yamada, to make a semiconductor laser of AlGaInP based material forming a waveguide of real refractive index via a crystal growth process and without the need for an exposed mesa (see Anayama column 2 lines 46-57).

Regarding Claim 11, Ibbetson teaches in Figure 9A a method for fabricating a semiconductor light emitting device comprising a plurality of semiconductor layers including an active layer between an n-type layer (86) and a p-type layer (84), and a planar substrate (81). Ibbetson further teaches in Figure 8B that said active layer is grown such that the polarization field is directed from said n-layer to said p-layer. Ibbetson does not teach a tilted active layer. Anayama teaches in Figure 7 a semiconductor optical device comprising an active layer (5) that is grown on a surface (4) that is tilted at an angle with respect to a substrate (1). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to use a tilted active layer in Ibbetson, as taught by Yamada, to make a semiconductor laser of AlGaInP based material forming a waveguide of real refractive index via a crystal growth process and without the need for an exposed mesa (see Anayama column 2 lines 46-57).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3-5, 9 and 10 for the reasons set forth in the previous office actions dated 12/11/03 and 3/15/04.

Art Unit: 2878

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to Claims 6 and 11 have been carefully considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
